Complexity and iterative consultancy

Complexity is beyond the control of management and change processes very often take a surprising turn. That is why usual consulting and training approaches encounter their limits. flow consulting's research team developed the concept of iterative consultancy. We adapted models and instruments to this concept. The iterative consultancy forms our understanding of consultancy with which we work.

Quality Certification

Our high quality demands were awarded with the EFQM label „Recognised for excellence 5 star“ and the Silver Medal of the Ludwig-Erhard-Preis in the category small and micro-enterprises.
